

À Madame Ysidora Clarke.

50

DETROIT, MICH.
Novelty Music Company,
22 MONTCALM ST (EAST.)

Copyright 1886 by Novelty Music Co.

Anton Strelezki

“ A D É ! ”

(ADIEU.)

BALLAD

Paroles de MAURICE SAGAREZ.

A. STRELEZKI.

Andantino melancolico.

mp

pp

mp

p

ben tenuto.

mp

p

1. The days are grow-ing old, And the
2. The sun is shin-ing bright, But I lov-ing words we told Are for-got-ten in the win-try past. The see no cheering light In its warm and kind-ly rays that glow. My

mp

hours are growing small, When the bitter tears will fall, And our hearts feel the chill-ing broken heart's cold, At the cru-el words you told, They have kill'd like the win-ter's molto espress.

blast, Tell me not that I must go, For your lips would melt like snow, At the snow, Speak one word and I for-give, And for thee, dear one, will live, Tho my

mf f

appass. molto

sight of my poor bro - ken heart, And al-though you may be sad, I will days shall be but few and sad, And I'll love thee just as well, As that appass.

cresc f

live to make you glad, And with-out thee ne'er de-part!
day thy glances fell, And my trust-ing heart made glad!

cresc f rit.

ten. Ped *

Un Pochettino. meno mosso. dolciss.

1, 2. For the spring-tide may go, And the cold win-ter's snow, Kill the ben sostenuto.

birds and the flow-ers of May, But my love will re-main, Both in sun-shine and rain, And my lips nev-er breathe, A - dé!

rall.

dolce.

morendo.

p pp ppp

Ped

